

Vern Aanenson

Memorial Skeet Tournament

Vern Aanenson was the sole owner of Old Dutch Foods after buying out his partner in the early 1960's and ultimately passed the company down to his sons, and the company remains a family business today. Vern set the standard for quality and flavor that Old Dutch has always been devoted to.

Vern was President of the Twin Cities Hopkins Gun Club in the early sixties and facilitated it's move to the current location and name change to the Minneapolis Gun Club later in that decade. Vern remained President until he retired from his position in the late 1980's.

